

EMORY
UNIVERSITY

Emory Writing Center

Writing Center Support for Medical Imaging Program Students

The Writing Center is Now Open to Medical Imaging Program Students

The Emory Writing Center begins serving MIP students in January of 2020. We encourage you to take advantage of this excellent, free resource on campus.

Overview of Writing Center Consulting Services

What do Writing Center Tutors and Fellows Do?

The Writing Center's highly interdisciplinary staff of undergraduate tutors and graduate fellows are available to support MIP students with a range of projects, including course papers, presentations, grants, and job application materials. Through one-on-one consultations, tutors can work with students at any stage of the writing process on any issues of concern, including idea development, structure, use of sources, grammar, and word choice. Writing Center tutors do not proofread. Instead, their consultations equip you with strategies and resources you can continue to use as you write, revise, and edit on your own.

Why Should I Visit the Writing Center?

The Writing Center has been serving Emory College, Laney Graduate School, and School of Nursing Students for many years. In the anonymous exit surveys students complete after each appointment, these students consistently rate their Writing Center consultations as "excellent," credit the center with making them better writers, and indicate that they would recommend the center to their friends. Whether you consider yourself a strong writer or you're struggling, everyone can benefit from discussing their work with a peer. Why not take advantage of this incredible resource?

Where is the Writing Center, and When is it Open?

The Writing Center is located in Callaway (north wing) room N-111. In addition to in-person consultations, the center offers a limited number of distance appointments for those who qualify.

The Writing Center opens for the Spring 2020 semester on January 28th. Spring hours are Monday-Thursday 11am-8pm, Friday 11am-5pm, and Sunday 12pm-8pm.

Learn More about the Writing Center and Make an Appointment

Learn more about the Writing Center and make an appointment through the center's website: <http://www.writingcenter.emory.edu/>. Please review tutoring policies before your visit. Please note that a maximum of 2 appointments are allowed each week, and students need to bring hard copies of drafts to your appointments.